

Master of Arts in Education Program

The Department of Education offers the Master of Arts degree in Education. The program with its various areas of emphasis in Educational Administration and Supervision and Special Education, is designed to prepare leaders in the respective fields and provide solid grounds for those who may choose to pursue higher degrees.

The program in Educational Administration and Supervision is directed towards students and teachers as well as those who already hold administrative positions in schools and who wish to improve their professional skills.

The program in Special Education prepares students to work as special educators in schools.

On completion of their programs, students will be able to:

- Analyze and apply current trends and issues in education;
- Engage in critical and reflective analysis to integrate and apply a variety of research-based methods, materials, and processes;
- Conduct research to contribute to the wider education community.
